

Urinary Calculi Added to Tissue Exempt/Exclusion List

Effective Date:

July, 28, 2021

Contact: Anatomic Pathology

Overview:

Effective immediately, Urinary calculi will no longer be automatically examined by surgical pathology. The calculi have been added to the tissue exempt/ exclusion list. If pathology examination is desired, an order for surgical pathology will need to be created.

As is the current protocol, if chemical analysis is desired, an order for a stone analysis should be placed in Cerner.
